~~was~~ ~~sailed~~ ~~stomach~~, ~~was~~ ~~supper~~ ~~to~~ ~~eat~~

This bright spring morning is enough like P.R. to inspire me to write happily the doings of the past year.

Mrs. Santoro

Dr. Harris has been invited several times to show the Institute movies to different High Schools near by. (No gas for ~~man~~ long trips) at first I accompanied him, but sat & wept. (??) It would be better if I stayed home in an acre of blue bonnets & counted red birds!

We rejoiced (and nobody knows how much) over the alumni cable of March 8, 1944. Thank you

Our Puerto Rico visitors were few this year. We expected Dr. Antonio Rivera and met 3 buses but received a beautiful letter of explanation instead of 'Jonio'.

Mrs. Isabel Alvarez made us a short visit with St. Herman, his wife Early, and son Herman III. They made us very happy, and how our tongues did fly! We had Puerto Rican coffee, too.

~~My~~ ~~interrupt~~ the visitor's list to tell you

PI > The best thing that happened, ^{all year} was the message which came May 23, '44 telling of Polytechnic's accreditation.

Another Puerto Rican visitor was Amparo Garcia Marlowe ~~and her son card~~. ~~This~~ Marlowe is a teacher of Spanish in Miami, Florida where she teaches Spanish. She was Mary Harris' guest, but Mary shared her with us.

October 8 Evelyn Caldwell came en route to ^{visit her mother before going to} South America to ~~mission work~~ ^{as missionary nurse.} ~~not a nurse in hospital.~~ She is a member of ^{partly supported by} Donald's church.

Later in Oct the Likers came to visit us. We enjoyed them more than I can express. We scarcely spoke a sentence without the word Polytechnic in it. They have the best children. Alumni take notice their children when
