New York April 17, 1920.

My dear Mrs. Harris:

Your note of April 6 is just now received, and it gives me pleasure to think that I have been able to give a little of that same blessed commodity to yourself and Mr. Harris.

When we had the pleasure of seeing your husband at Old Ridge, he seemed well and happy; as no doubt you have from a more direct source of information.

If Mrs. Mitchell knew I was writing she would join in kindest regards to yourself and the children as other San German friends.

Sincerely yours

E. P. Mitchell.

Mrs. J. W. Harris
